WHO IS FOOD FOR THOUGHT DENVER?

THE MISSION OF FOOD FOR THOUGHT DENVER IS TO ELIMINATE WEEKEND HUNGER FOR ALL DENVER AREA SCHOOL KIDS. BY PROVIDING A POWERSACK TO EVERY CHILD IN THE SCHOOL EACH FRIDAY DURING THE SCHOOL YEAR, WE HOPE TO ASSURE THAT NO CHILD GOES HUNGRY OVER THE WEEKEND.

WHAT DO WE DO?

Each Friday, individuals, students, friends and corporate team volunteers fill food bags called PowerSacks at two packing sites: Metropolitan State University of Denver (Central) and just east of Northfield (FFT East). Each PowerSack contains enough food to feed a family of four for the weekend. The Powersacks are then distributed to the students of the 66 schools listed below. Why do we do this? Many of these students come to school hungry on Monday mornings due to a lack of adequate, nutritious food over the weekend.

HOW ARE WE UNIQUE?

Our structure is designed to keep our overhead costs to a bare minimum so we can channel our donation monies directly to the needs of our student recipients and their families. The two organizational core objectives of our grass roots program are:

1. We are a 100% VOLUNTEER organization; we do not hire any paid staff or provide salaries to any individual involved with Food For Thought Denver.
2. Our operating costs are underwritten by our generous Board of Directors and other supporters, allowing all donations received from our sponsors / donors to go directly to feeding Denver’s kids.
